ANNUAL PUBLICATION

OF

THE STUDENT BODY

OF

SUFFOLK, VIRGINIA

PRESENTATION

BOOK I

We introduce our superintendent, principal, secretaries, school board, and teachers in Book I of the twenty-second volume of THE PEANUT. We are grateful to them for their guidance and the many values we have gained through their leadership.

BOOK II

Every school looks up to its Seniors—the class of forty-four is no exception. We proudly present our Seniors and lower classmen in Book II. The time will come when each respective class will take its place as the seniors of the school and gain the recognition due them.

BOOK III

The Circle and Triangle awards displayed by each person on the division page of BOOK III exemplify some outstanding extra-curricula activity performed by each boy or girl. There are many such activities in Suffolk High School in which many students have the opportunity to participate.

BOOK IV

We are doubly proud of our athletics, because we have students who are interested and active in the many fields of physical development. In BOOK IV we acquaint you with our football, basketball, and tennis teams and those boys and girls who often spur us on to victory, our cheerleaders!

DEDICATION

LIEUTENANT (JG) WILLIAM T. HARRY

One who has been with us for many years and has added much to our school life certainly deserves the very greatest honor that is possible for us to bestow upon him. When Mr. Harry first came to us to be our principal, we recognized in him many fine qualities. In a very short time he made friends, individually, of the entire student body by his rare gift of easily learning names. He was always very much interested in the activities of the school and was ready at all times to give sound advice to all who needed it. In all our joys and triumphs he was our constant companion, and in our sorrows and misfortunes he was our helper and friend. We felt, when Mr. Harry was called into the service of his country, that our loss was very great, for it is seldom that one is able to find a man so capable of leadership and at the same time with such a winning personality. It is a very great privilege to be able to pay tribute to our former leader and friend, Lieutenant (jg) William T. Harry, by dedicating to him this Volume XXII of THE PEANUT.

BOOK ONE

Administration and Faculty

SUPERINTENDENT

MR. STANLEY T. GODBEY

In Mr. Godbey, our superintendent, we have found one who is certainly well fitted for his responsible position in our school system and who is outstanding among leading groups of educators.

In him each of us recognizes a loyal friend, one who holds a place of highest esteem in all our hearts.

Aside from his ponderous task of supervising all the studies and activities in Suffolk High School, and all the grammar schools of the city, Mr. Godbey has found time to take an important part in the activities not only of our community and the Tidewater area, but also of the state.

PRINCIPAL

MR. WILLIAM R. SAVAGE, JR.

This year we are indeed fortunate in having as our principal, Mr. W. R. Savage, Jr. During the short time that he has been with us, he has, through his warm friendship and untiring efforts, won the respect and admiration of the entire student body. In all activities and in the scholastic work of the students he has taken much interest, and we have all found that his opinions are to be valued very highly. He is never too busy to stop what he may be doing to answer one of our questions or help us solve a difficult problem. In short, he is greatly interested in every one and everything in Suffolk High School. We, therefore, believe that in Mr. Savage we have a leader of whom we may well be proud.

Senior Sponsors

The seniors in any high school will ever be indebted to those teachers who give much time and help toward the betterment of the class which they sponsor. We, the Seniors of Suffolk High School, feel that our lives have been greatly enriched by the wise counsel and guidance of our two sponsors—Mrs. Willard Lipscomb and Miss Virginia Brinkley. No two teachers could be better equipped for this position, nor could any class have any more capable leaders. Their interest in our activities and problems has made this, our last year at Suffolk High, one we shall long cherish in our memories.

We are confident that we shall be able to look back on, as real incentives in our lives, our sponsors' words of wisdom, of encouragement, of kindness—all blended with the genuine interest and spirit that are characteristic of their efforts and work with our class.

To them we offer our sincere thanks and gratitude for these endeavors.

We salute you-the sponsors of the class of 1944!

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

MARTHA GODWIN

The ideal student of any school is one who leads a well-rounded life, and one who not only has a good scholastic record, but also is equally at home in athletics and social affairs. Martha seems to be exactly that, as she is active in everything the school has to offer. Always neat and well-dressed, she is kept busy by her activities, which are numerous.

She has been one of the best managers the Girls' Basketball team has ever had. She is not only a member of the athletic, finance, and concessions committees, but also co-editor of The Peanut and news editor of the Peanut Picker. In clubs, too, Martha has taken a prominent part, as she is vice-president of the Girls' Hi-Y, secretary and treasurer of the Sigma Sigma, and secretary of the Wrangler's Club.

These are only a few of the things that make Martha a distinctive student.

Her pleasant personality, varied activities, and high scholarship have put her high in the opinions of her fellow-students. Certainly she is one of our leading seniors.

In the two years that Tommy Birdsong has been with us at Suffolk High he has won the friendship of the whole student body. This season the 1943 football squad elected him one of their co-captains, and he led them through a very successful season. Recognized by his classmates as a student with the ability of leadership, he was elected by them as their vice-president. Nor did the students stop here in bestowing honors upon this senior. He was elected sergeantat-arms by the Boys' Senior Hi-Y in which he has shown such great interest. Tommy is also a member of the Wranglers' Club and serves in many other activities. Certainly in view of these many things contributed to the outstanding seniors of 1944.

TOMMY BIRDSONG

betterment of Suffolk High by Tommy, he has justly won a place among the

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Seldom it is that one finds a student so popular and wellliked as Jerome Felton. Nor is it an easy task to find one so gifted with the gift of leadership. Yet, here we have such a student. Inhis junior year he was elected vice-president of the Student Senate, and this year he has won the most coveted position in school-president of the Student Body. He has taken a great interest in sports, serving as a cheerleader last season and as manager of the 1943 football team. In such organizations as the Boys' Senior Hi-Y and the Wranglers' Club, he has taken a very active part. These many activities together with his friendliness and thoughtfulness for others make Jerome a truly prominent senior.

JEROME FELTON

VIRGINIA McCLENNY

Probably no one else in the Senior class deserves the title, "the busiest girl in Suffolk High," more than Virginia Mc-Clenny. We have all seen her, time and time again, rushing around school, managing some-how not only to find time to do everything, but also to do it well. Her efficiency and willingness to work have made her one of the leaders in all aspects of school life.

With all her extra-curricular activities, she has been able to keep her grades above average. Her record speaks for itself. This year she has served capably as co-editor of The Peanut, chairman of the assembly committee, and heads editor of the Peanut Picker. It goes without saying that she has also been an active member of many clubs.

The student body has every reason to be grateful to Virginia for the time and work she has spent in her duties. The services she has rendered to Suffolk High School during her last four years here make Virginia a distinctive senior.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

The busy little redhead we see so much around the Peanut Picker office is Virginia Vaughan, whom we know mainly as the editor of our school paper. Despite the difficulty of getting the paper out because of wartime shortages, we have had our Peanut Picker as usual this year, and if anything, it has been as good as or better than those of preceding years. For this alone she deserves to be one of our leading seniors.

But Virginia's activities do not stop here. She is also reporter of the Wranglers' Club, and a member of the Senate. Interested in club work, she belongs to the Hi-Y Club, the Playmakers, and the Sigma-Sigma. Without a doubt, Virginia deserves mention when naming the outstanding seniors,

Personality, scholarship, dependability-all go into the making of another outstanding senior, Tommy Whitfield. This year's Senior Class President has indeed proven himself prominent in all fields of school activity. He has served for many years as a member of the Student Senate and last year his classmates elected him president of the Junior Class. It was this senior who boosted the sales of The 1944 PEANUT to a high level. During football season he took a very active part in selling concessions at the games. He is an outstanding member of the Boys' Senior Hi-Y Club and is a tremendous aid to many other activities. A student with such talents and ability as Tommy cannot help stand out not only among the members of the Senior Class but also among the whole student body of Suffolk High School.

Millions of boys all over the United States have gone from their homes and loved ones to fight for an everlasting freedom and to assure us at home of that freedom.

Suffolk High School has sent out its boys, with regret, as have other schools, to aid in this great struggle for existence.

To you, who would have graduated with the class of 1944, had you not answered the call of your country, we dedicate this page—

For seventeen years the students of Suffolk High School have had a democratic form of government, for in 1927 the Student Senate was formed under the leadership of Principal Francis S. Chase. Throughout its years of existence this organization has been the center of school activities, for not only has it sponsored many worth-while projects but it has supervised the activities of the students as a whole.

One of the unique accomplishments of the Senate has been the organization of the A.P.T.P. in 1939. This organization, which promotes better relations between parents, pupils, and teachers, was the first of its kind in Virginia. Another organization the Senate has been successful in founding is the Ways and Means Committee, which was begun in 1937 to better carry on the work of the Senate.

The officers and homeroom representatives meet regularly with their adviser to plan school activities, makes laws, and issue charters to new clubs.

The Ways and Means Committee was organized in order that the Senate might more effectively carry on its business. This group plans the work of the Senate and leads in carrying out many of its projects. It is composed of eight committee chairmen—Clubs, Athletics, Social Affairs, Assembly, Finance, Bonds and Stamps, Building and Grounds, and Publicity. Each is in charge of the particular phase of school activity which its name suggests.

The chairmen of the committees are appointed by the president of the Senate and each chairman selects several students to work with him. These students meet twice a month to plan the business they will present to the Senate,

This year the Senate, through the Ways and Means Committee, sponsored the championship game with Harrisonburg, the clean-up campaign, and the school spirit campaign.

The twenty-second volume of The Peanut is the product of the journalistic, artistic, and business talents of a group of active students who have been willing to spend long hours after school all during the year, planning, worrying, and working cooperatively to bring you an outstanding annual.

Annual work is done largely by the upperclassmen, although it presents such a wide and varied range of action that each year you will find among the members of the staff several students from the lower grades.

To give you an annual that is everything you desire has been the sole aim of The 1944

The Peanut Picker

The only logical reason why the students of Suffolk High School should be so quiet and meditative on Friday afternoons that they do not rush out after school in the usual manner is that they are busily engaged in absorbing the school news from the pages of the Peanut

Such interest is to be expected as a result of the splendid work of the editor, Virginia Vaughan, and those on the Peanut Picker staffs who so cheerfully give hour after hour of time after school to bring us a paper which has won first place in class B among the school papers all over the state. Also the fact that there have been more subscriptions and advertisements this year than before proves that it is a success.

All the time this extra-curricular activity is bringing us our own newspaper, it is offering training and developments in the field of journalism.

Sigma Sigma

Considering the number of literary geniuses who have abounded in our school since time immemorial and who have done magnificent jobs in editing our school paper and annual, we are not surprised to find the Sigma Sigma going as strong as ever this year. In previous years this club has been honorary, but this year its members decided to show the school that they, too, could be as useful as ornamental. So in order to prove this, they set upon a most novel idea—one which would benefit everyone involved in the school system. Yes, folks will remember for a long time those pamphlets with school yells and miscellaneous information. Not only was it a first-class project but also it was strictly in keeping with the ideas behind this club.

Organized as a literary club some years back and formerly accepting only those who wrote for the Peanut Picker and The Peanut, it has since come to accept business members of these respective staffs. This year the club is under the able sponsorship of Miss Frances Armistead.

The Wranglers' Club is undoubtedly one of the most important in Suffolk High School. Its purposes—to promote debating and public speaking, and to increase the knowledge of parliamentary law in Suffolk High School—are most instructive. Not only do they aid in making things run more smoothly around school, but they also prepare us admirably for our future lives, no matter what profession we may choose.

The present constitution of the Wranglers' Club was submitted on October 2, 1942. Membership is limited to twenty-one, usually juniors and seniors, who are chosen from applications submitted by them to the club.

The largest outside activity carried on by the Wranglers' Club is the George Washington Ball, which has become an annual affair—one which every member of the club helps plan and which the whole student body enjoys.

Whenever there is a good cause or whenever help is needed, the Girls' Senior Hi-Y can always be depended on to do their share. Each year they undertake definite projects which usually aid the less fortunate people of the community. Organized in 1937 under the leadership of Miss Winston Cobb, it has since striven for and upheld standards with the ideals of clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living predominating. During the rationing period when the school was plunged headlong into chaos, the girls were right on hand willing and eager to aid and direct in all possible ways. When the Yuletide drew near, they decided to play Santa Claus to some unfortunate child, creating another ray of light and hope in a world of total darkness, Important also was the project of furnishing a day room for the soldiers in some nearby camp. Here servicemen can go and relax by reading or writing letters or playing various games.

Another very important part of the Girls' Senior Hi-Y program is the religious activity. Once every month they hold a meeting consisting of Bible study conducted by a speaker. Also they attend church in union with the other Hi-Y clubs once a month. In the spring they sponsored a Bible study course which was open to all students.

The Boys' Senior Hi-Y consists of twenty-five members chosen from the junior and senior classes. The ideals for which this club strives are the four C's—clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, and clean scholarship. Interest in the promotion of their ideals must dwell in the individual person in order to be chosen as a member of this club. Unlike other clubs, members are choesn twice a year—October and March—and the twenty-five members are balanced with fifteen seniors and ten juniors.

This organization ordinarily conducts two meetings each month unless there is a special one called by the president or sponsor. It is necessary to pass three full credit subjects and to maintain this scholastic standing in order to retain one's membership.

This year the Boys' Senior Hi-Y joined with the Girls' in furnishing a day room for the soldiers at Camp Pendleton. This action as well as those of former years illustrates perfectly the worthiness of the Hi-Y Clubs.

Inspired by the Senior Hi-Y organization, a group of freshmen and sophomores in 1938 asked permission to form a Junior Hi-Y Club. Miss Thelma Pruden was selected as sponsor, and the Senior Club was used as a model until they were able to formulate their own policies. They have the 4 C's as their notto, and members always endeavor to strengthen Christian standards of school and community.

It has been the custom of the club each Christmas as long as there was a Negro nursery to give the children there a Christmas party instead of one for themselves, but since the nursery no longer exists this year, the club donated their money to the Joy Fund. Throughout the year the girls have assisted in A.P.T.P. meetings and have aided the Junior Red Cross in its projects.

In order that there might be a better undersanding of the various religions, the club has had ministers from various denominations speak to them and explain the origin and beliefs of their church.

They have also had three socials in the forms of a patriotic party, supper, and picnic.

The Boys' Junior Hi-Y

The Boys' Junior Hi-Y Club, which was organized in 1940 under the sponsorship of Miss Sarah Lacy, strives always to improve their school and community. Chosen from the freshman and sophomore classes, the members must maintain and extend high standards of Christian living at all times and live by their motto of the 4C's—clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living. Once a month these boys along with the Girls' Junior Hi-Y go to church in a body.

The main project of the club this year has been to study the constitution and learn the principles of Hi-Y so that the members of the club in the future will know and appreciate the value of being associated with this club.

The Home Economics Club

Although comparatively new the Home Economics Club has been well-organized under the capable leadership of Miss Estelle Whitehead. Club members are selected from pupils of the regular Home Economics classes who show a special interest in the field of Home Economics.

The purposes of this organization are to help preserve the ideals of home life, to learn to work together in large groups for the common good, to foster the setting up of higher personal standards of accomplishments, to promote a program of state and community service, and to develop initiative and leadership.

The planning, preparing, and serving of banquets, receptions, and teas are the main functions of these future homemakers.

They are affiliated with the state organization of the Future Homemakers Club of Virginia to which they send delegates each year.

Several projects have been completed for the Junior Red Cross.

"Fourscore and seven years ago—" longer than that, more or less, a dramatic club has been chilling our spines with spooks and witches, and tickling our toes with comedies.

Under the able sponsorship of Miss Margaret Daughtrey the Playmakers have had one of their most successful seasons. They have presented two very outstanding one-act plays. One was presented with two other plays given by the school, the other as an assembly for the enjoyment of the students, Among their many projects the Playmakers helped in the selection of new furniture for the stage. This year a new pin was selected and ordered by the club.

The purpose of the Playmakers is to aid the students in the appreciation of dramatics. To help carry out this purpose the club studies subjects which will help in the presentation of their productions.

Unlike many clubs, the Playmakers is open to all students of senior high school. Students wo wish to join must apply by letter, telling why they wish to try. The new members are then selected from these applicants by the old club members.

Without their ready assistance, we would be lost in our "To be or not to be's," since they have been with us so long and probably will be for many years more,

"They shall have music wherever they go."

The old saying could easily be applied to the people in our Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs which meet regularly each week to blend their harmonious voices, thus filling the atmosphere with sweet song that echoes up and down the halls of old Suffolk High School.

For about fifteen years the Glee Clubs have been progressive and outstanding organizations in the school, every year under the direction of a person very well qualified for this position. You will find that these clubs are never at a standstill but are always working and striving to improve their talents and to encourage others to do likewise.

At a state musical contest in Richmond, Virginia, in the spring of 1941 our Glee Clubs competed with others and won a rating of superior.

This year Miss Irene Alderman has expertly led our Glee Clubs through a very colorful program, demonstrating her splendid musical abilities in organizing group work of the mixed Glee Clubs with accompaniment, directing a cappella singing, and the training of our prominent double quartet.

The Glee Clubs have made appearances at the churches, in the A.P.T.P. meetings, and over the radio. Much time and effort was spent in the planning, practicing, and presentations of assembly programs in connection with the Christmas Concert which was very successful. In all of these our soloists, Anne Johnson, Anita Godbey, and Sylvia Taylor have taken important parts, while the double quartet composed of Herbert Tucker, Clarence Sutton, Jack Hanel, Ted Hanel, Jackie Martin, Agnes Barlowe, Anne Johnson, and Anita Godbey, have appeared at the Elks Club, the Woman's Club, the A.P.T.P., and over the radio here in Suffolk. Through the Red Cross they have visited and sung before the sick and wounded service men at the Naval Hospital in Portsmouth, Virginia.

And so, if you are willing to work, you may join this melodious group of boys and girls who are able to spread cheer with their beautiful music.

To extend, create, and arouse interest in Red Cross work is the purpose of the Junior Red Cross. During the most serious crisis in the history of our country the Red Cross has shown what a great and humane organization it is. We in the Junior Red Cross feel that every little bit we do will help in the great cause.

This year the Junior Red Cross, under the new sponsorship of Miss Selma Piland, has been very active filling Christmas boxes for refugees in foreign countries, making favors for service men in Naval and Marine hospitals, and making supplies needed in nearby service centers.

A very effective assembly portraying different phases of Red Cross work was put on by the club during American Education Week. Among several projects completed during the year was furnishing a badly needed day room at the Army Base in Norfolk. Members of the club, who are delegates from each homeroom, enjoyed a Chow Mein supper along with its other socials.

And so the Iunior Red Cross concludes another busy, but pleasant year.

FOOT

With a dismal outlook in prospect for the 1943 football season, the Suffolk High Red Raiders went through a ten-game schedule establishing a surprisingly good record. The Raiders showed five wins and five losses, three of the defeats coming at the hands of non-conference opponents.

Suffolk opened the season by holding a strong Maury eleven to a thirteen point win, then blanked Kempsville and Norview in successive week-ends. Petersburg took a hard fought 38-13 battle before the fighting Red Raiders downed South Norfolk 6-0. Suffolk was then upset by a surprising Holy Trinity team 12-7. And the following Friday Norview was defeated for the second time of the year. Cradock won a heartbreaking 13-12 contest from the Raiders in the Portsmouth stadium. However, Suffolk marched over Oceana in the next fray, 26-6, to take the district title, but were defeated in a thrilling Thanksgiving day battle by Harrisonburg, before the largest crowd of the season, to lose the Eastern Virginia Class "B" championship.

Led by co-captains Tommy Birdsong and Wallace Klein, combined with the coaching of "Bunny" Cockrell and Dick White, the fighting Red Raiders showed a fine spirited attack throughout the entire season, scoring in all but two games.

This eleven, long to be remembered, was managed by Jerome Felton, assisted by Dickie Lipscomb.

Boys' Basketball Team

This year's basketball team, from the standpoint of games won and lost, cannot be called very successful. However, in the true words of the poet, "It is not whether you won or lost, but how you played the game," they had a very successful season. Fate dealt harshly with them. During the season they lost by various means the following varsity players: "Tiny" Brown, Ted Hanel, J. Wood Collins, Nick Manos, and Buck Taylor. These setbacks, instead of bringing on depression of spirit, fired our boys to fight harder than ever against our mere experienced and larger rivals. Naturally they got good trouncings from teams out of their class, but they did fairly well with class "B" rivals. The support of the townsfolk was wonderful all season.

The boys on the team will never forget their coach, who is one of the best Suffolk has ever had. Many coaches who had been through what he has would have given up all hope of ever having a basketball team. But as the team, and everyone else who knows him, knew he was right in there every game, fighting with his team just as though they were "State Champions." The boys on his team, along with the entire student body, take their hats off to Coach "Bunny" Cockrell.

The Raiders, captained by Jack Hanel and "Tiny" Brown and managed by Tom Birdsong and Harvey Rawls, won a total of seven games and lost twelve, while scoring 583 points to their opponents' 672.

Girls' Basketball Team

"They have done it again"—this seems to be the accepted phrase for the last nine years. Superb leadership by Coach Emily Pittman has again captured the Class B District Championship for her team. This was the first time in seven years that the girls went through the whole season without a single defeat.

The total number of points made by the girls was 502 to their opponents' 259. Jane Grant, junior, was high scorer for the year with 177 points, closely followed by Betty Burchett, senior, with 174 points. Also in the scoring column were Nan Taylor and Jane Burchett with 94 and 49 points respectively. Charlotte Andrews, Emma Carr, Barbara Haynes, and Mary Lou Bagley did some very outstanding guarding.

This year the team was led by Co-Captains Betty and Jane Burchett and capably managed by Martha Godwin, assisted by Nancy Rawls. The fine sportsmanship shown by this team is really a credit to Suffolk High School.

The 1943 Tennis Team

Last year, unfortunately, it was very difficult to secure matches for the tennis team. This was due greatly to the lack of interest taken in this sport by other class B schools. However, at last, four matches were secured, three of them class A and one class C. Under the able leadership of its captain, John Woodward, now an army air cadet, the team had a pretty successful season. In their two matches with Maury, a class A school, the racketeers were defeated by the scores of 9-0 and 8-1. Undismayed by these defeats, Suffolk easily overcame Smithfield, 6-0, and then closed its season with an outstanding victory, over Wilson, 8-1.

With the exception of Woodward, the entire first team will be back this year. It is hoped that a greater number of matches may be obtained this season, for with its new captain, Dickie Lipscomb, the 1944 Tennis Team promises to be an outstanding one.

Throughout the 1943 season the team was managed by two very efficient managers, Harvey Rawls and Jimmy Godwin, and every practice or match found them ready to look after the players' every need. The coach, "Bunny" Cockrell, although this was his first year with the Suffolk racketeers, produced a team superior in skill and sportsmanship.

The game is a hard one. The team is tired and discouraged. Then a rousing cheer fills the air. The team's spirit is renewed. Again the cheerleaders have done it—cheered the players on to another great victory.

This year the squad is composed of six new members and one letterman from last year, Jay Wood Collins. The new members are Annette Jones, Jeanne Sturgeon, Jane Grant, and Betty and Jane Burchett. Always clad in their white outfits with the red letters, rain or shine, winning or losing, they often spurred the team on by producing a rousing yell from the crowd. They work harder than the rest think, so give a cheer for the cheerleaders!
